Harrisburg --- New for the 2022-2023 school year, Dauphin County Technical School Adult & Continuing Education will be introducing two new, courses designed for entry-level positions in the automotive and welding fields.

“We are providing the essential training to adults interested in learning new skills leading to entry-level job opportunities,” says Stephanie Hanford, Director of Adult & Continuing Education at DCTS. “Many adults work full-time and have responsibilities making it difficult to go to school full-time. We’ve created two new, courses in automotive and welding that can be completed in only 200 hours with all of the essential elements an individual needs to apply for entry-level positions without the general education class requirements and costs.”

Adult and Continuing Education at Dauphin County Technical School offers many 30-hour training classes to adult learners year-round including PA State Safety & Emissions Certifications, Electrical, Plumbing, HVAC, Forklift Certification, Small Engine Repair, and Carpentry. Certification training courses include Nurse Aide, Veterinary Assistant, Forklift, and PA Automotive Safety & Emissions.

These two new 200-hours courses in welding and automotive support the demand for short-term, work-readiness training. Both courses support business needs, create career opportunities in manufacturing, and result in family-sustainable jobs.

Additional information can be found on the Dauphin County Technical School website www.dcts.org/adulteducation or by calling the office at (717) 652-3170 extension 7902.
